Office 2010 is Coming Soon – Free Upgrade!

Announcing the latest version of the popular productivity software from Microsoft – Office 2010! Our team has been testing this software for the past few months and are ready to help you implement it at your location! Office 2010 should be available sometime in June. And here is some great news - if you purchase a copy of Microsoft Office 2007 between March 5, 2010 and September 30, 2010, you will be eligible for a free upgrade to Office 2010 when it is released!

That's right! There is no need to put your productivity or upgrade plans on hold. Use Office 2007 now, get your free upgrade when you are ready! Want to know about some of the great new features? Here are a few:

1. Find the tools you need when you need them.

The new Microsoft Office Backstage™ view and improved Ribbon experience help you quickly navigate the tasks and commands you rely on.

2. Enhance your presentations with photos and videos.

Take advantage of new photo and video tools that let you embed, edit, and format photos and videos in PowerPoint 2010 presentations.

3. Get more insight from your data.

Expose trends in your customers' budgets and financials with Sparklines in Excel 2010. These mini-charts let you easily identify changes in their data.

4. Organize information for all your projects in one place.

You can combine their notes, media, documents, and other materials into a digital notebook with OneNote 2010.

5. Create text as powerful as your images.

Give your documents a polished and professional look with Text Effects in Word 2010.

More information and a trial version of Office 2010 can be found at: <http://www.microsoft.com/office/2010/en/default.aspx>

Outlook Express Replaced by Microsoft Live Mail

Microsoft has ended support for Outlook Express. If you would like to continue to use a free Microsoft e-mail package, please switch to Microsoft Live Mail. It comes preinstalled on Windows 7, but other OS users can download it at: <http://download.live.com/wlmail>

This software is fully compatible with all Excalibur Technology POP mail services. Help and setup documentation can be found on our website, or you may call our Help Desk for support.

Support for XP SP2 and Vista RTM Expires Soon

Microsoft has announced that support for Windows XP SP2 and Windows Vista RTM version will end on July 13, 2010. This means you will no longer receive updates, security patches, or hot fixes. Don't be left without support. Upgrade to Windows 7 today! For all of your network needs, call your Technology Consultant today!
