Dear Scott:

Doing business with Excalibur over the years has been a key component in our success as a trade association. When we first called upon you, we were a small office and you were a fledgling company. We were impressed with your prompt, dependable, and personal service. As we grew, you helped us define our needs and meet them.

Today, several years later, Excalibur is still providing us with dependable, personal service – and with your help, we are equipped to meet our needs now and in the years to come.

While Excalibur has grown significantly, we are still comfortable knowing that you are there to respond to and resolve our technology issues whenever we need you – the best technicians, the best service, 24/7. It's a good feeling.

Sincerely yours,
